Centuria LifeGoals

An Investor must select a natural person whose life is to be insured (Life Insured) or they will be taken to be the Life Insured.

If the Investor is also the Life Insured, they can nominate one or more beneficiaries (Nominated Beneficiaries). Nominated Beneficiaries will receive the proceeds from the investment on the death of the Life Insured. If there is no Nominated Beneficiary, the Investor's estate will receive the proceeds from the investment. See page 20.

About Centuria LifeGoals

Simple | Flexible | Tax-effective

Centuria LifeGoals can assist Investors who want their investment, tax planning and estate planning needs covered in one simple investment solution.

Centuria LifeGoals may be attractive for Investors seeking a tax effective investment over the medium to long term (including those who are paying tax at a marginal rate of more than 30%) and who wish to reduce their annual tax reporting obligations. It may also be used as an alternative to, or complementary with, your other investments including superannuation.

Centuria LifeGoals are a Tax Paid investment product. Tax on the annual earnings of the Investment Options is reported and paid by Centuria Life at a maximum rate of 30%, less any applicable tax offsets, such as franking credits from shares and allowable deductions. This means that Investors do not need to declare earnings from Investment Options in their personal tax returns while they remain invested. Unlike shares, term deposits and managed funds, performance returns for the Investment Options are quoted net, or after, the payment of taxes by Centuria Life and fees.

Generally, if you hold your investment for 10 years or more, you pay no additional tax on your investment withdrawals. If you withdraw prior to this, you will normally only pay tax on the difference between 30% and any higher marginal tax rate applicable to you in that financial year on your earnings. In years 9 and 10 this difference is discounted by one-third and two-thirds respectively.

Centuria LifeGoals have features similar to a managed fund investment combined with a life insurance policy. First, the Investor chooses the Investment Options from across multiple asset classes and diversified funds. Then the Investor selects a natural person (Life Insured) upon whose death the investment will mature (that is, become payable). If no selection is made, the Investor is also the Life Insured.

An Investor (when also the Life Insured) can nominate one or more persons (Nominated Beneficiaries) to whom proceeds from the Investment Options are to be paid in the event of the death of the Life Insured. This payment would not form part of the Investor's estate and would be paid directly to the Nominated Beneficiaries, bypassing the often complicated and time-consuming probate process.

Using the Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan, Investors can also accumulate and build special-purpose endowments for Nominated Children and grandchildren. The proceeds from a Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan are made available to them upon reaching a predetermined age (Vesting Age), whilst the Investor retains full control and access. The Nominated Child who has been selected must also be the Life Insured and becomes the Centuria LifeGoals owner when they reach the Vesting Age. See page 16 for more details.

There is a range of Investment Options to choose from across multiple asset classes and diversified funds. The investment menu, consisting of specialist low-cost index funds and high-quality active investment managers, has been carefully selected by Centuria Life. The selected investment managers will be reviewed on an ongoing basis to monitor whether they are meeting their investment objectives as set out in this PDS.

There are also Centuria managed Investment Options where the Centuria Investment Committee selects the underlying investments.

Tax-effective wealth building

We all have investment goals. Yours may be providing for your children's education, that trip of a lifetime, a deposit on a house or funding your early retirement.

Like superannuation, Centuria LifeGoals are a Tax Paid investment. This means that tax is paid by Centuria Life on the earnings of an Investment Option, rather than by the individual Investor. The maximum tax rate paid on the earnings of an Investment Option is 30%, which is the current life insurance business tax rate and is the same as the general company tax rate, regardless of your personal tax rate. The effective tax rate however can be lower than the 30% rate if tax offsets apply, such as franking credits from shares and allowable deductions.

This makes Centuria LifeGoals an attractive investment for income earners with a marginal tax rate higher than 30%, including children, (who often attract high tax rates). If you are paying tax at less than 30% you will be entitled to a tax offset for the 30% tax Centuria Life has paid and this can be applied to reduce your total tax payable.

Your investment is Tax Paid which means that tax is paid by CenturiaLife on earnings made by Centuria LifeGoals during the investment period. Further, the performance returns for Centuria LifeGoals are quoted after paying tax and fees. In contrast, returns on most other investments (such as managed funds, term deposits and shares) are quoted on a before tax or 'gross' basis.

For example, as shown in the table below for illustrative purposes, for an Investor in the highest marginal tax bracket, assuming a 5% per annum after-tax investment return for a Tax Paid investment product is equivalent to a 9.4% per annum before-tax investment return. This is because the before-tax investment will be reduced by the tax payable on it at the highest marginal tax rate of 45% (plus 2% Medicare levy plus any Medicare levy surcharge).

The table below demonstrates the difference between investment returns on investment products that are Tax Paid (such as Centuria LifeGoals) and other investment products which are not Tax Paid in various scenarios.

Marginal tax rate ¹ (including the 2% Medicare levy) of Investor
Assumed illustrative investment return on Tax Paid investment (per annum)	21% tax rate	34.5% tax rate	39% tax rate	47% tax rate
	The amount you would need to earn per annum if you paid the tax yourself at one of the marginal tax rates above (i.e. if the investment is not Tax Paid)
4%	5.1%	6.1%	6.6%	7.6%
5%	6.3%	7.6%	8.2%	9.4%
6%	7.6%	9.2%	9.8%	11.3%
7%	8.9%	10.7%	11.5%	13.2%

The power of compound interest with a regular Investment Plan in a tax effective structure can create long term wealth for Centuria LifeGoals Investors.

1. Marginal tax rates are based on the Australian resident tax rates effective for the 2020-2021 tax year including the Medicare levy of 2.0% and excluding the Medicare levy surcharge. The Medicare levy only applies to tax-paying residents (source: ATO). Tax rates change from time to time and marginal tax rates higher than 30% reflect the relative effectiveness of Centuria LifeGoals' Tax Paid returns. Returns are income returns only. CGT discounts may apply to some investments held outside of the Centuria LifeGoals structure where the investment return includes a discounted capital gain. The above rates of return have been assumed and are for illustration purposes only. No representation is made that those rates (or any other rates) of return will be achieved or that there will not be investment losses. Actual investment results will differ.

How Centuria LifeGoals can work for you

You can make unlimited contributions to an Investment Option during the first year after you make your initial investment. In each of the following years, you can contribute up to 125% of the previous year's contributions without resetting the original investment date for calculating the 10-Year Period for tax purposes. This is known as the 125% Rule. This means that additional investments can have a term of less than 10 years and the earnings will still be Tax Paid.

You can make additional contributions in multiple Investment Options on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis from as little as $100 per Investment Option. This will be deducted from your nominated bank account.

To maximise the benefits of the 125% Rule, you can automatically increase your contribution each year by nominating a 5%, 10%, 15%, 20% or 25% increase in the application form. You can reduce or cancel this regular contribution plan at any time by notifying Centuria Life.

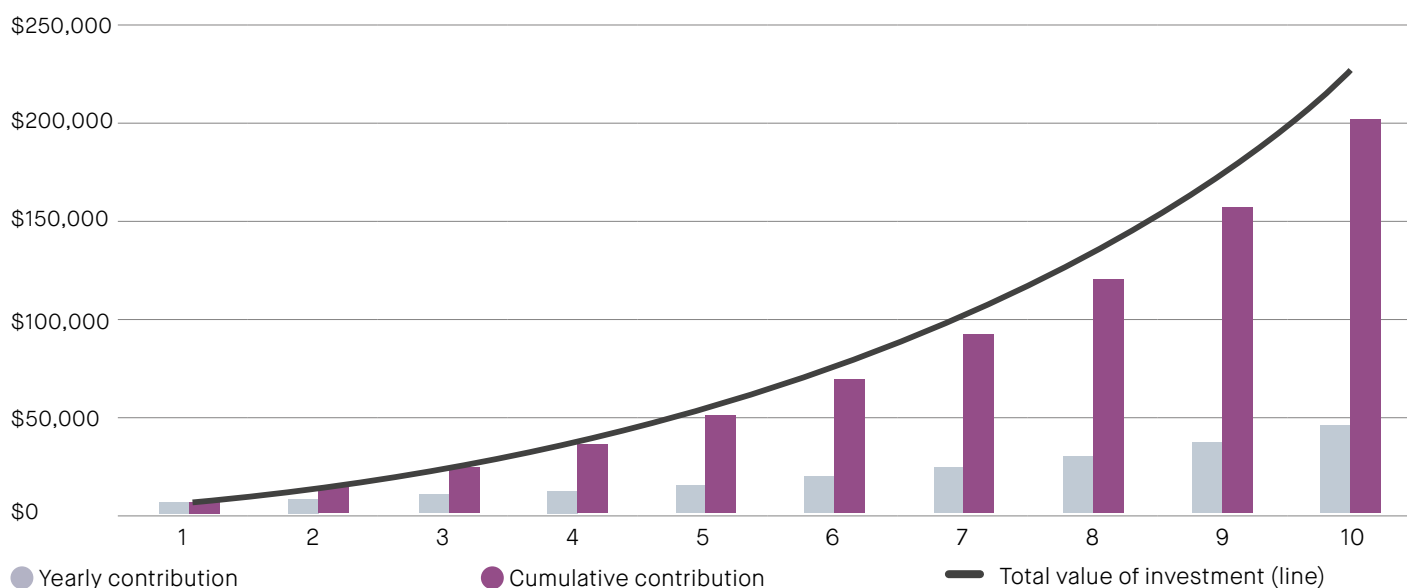

If you do not make an additional investment in a particular year, then making an additional investment in any subsequent year will restart the 10-Year Period.

If you wish to invest more than 125% of the previous year's contributions or if in the previous year you did not make any contributions, you can start a new investment and the 10-Year Period for that new investment will begin from the date of the new contribution. The date for determining the 10-Year Period for your other pre-existing investment would remain unchanged.

You can withdraw your investment (in whole or part) plus any earnings, at or after the end of the 10-Year Period and if you have complied with the 125% Rule, pay no tax. No matter when you make a withdrawal, no tax is payable on the apportioned capital component of your withdrawal (that is, there is effectively no tax payable on any contribution you made).

The chart below demonstrates the maximum that an Investor can contribute each year without restarting the 10-Year Period. It assumes an initial contribution of $500 per month, which increases every year for 10 years, to take advantage of the 125% Rule. It also shows the compounding effect of any investment growth (assuming an after-tax growth rate of 2.85% per annum after tax and fees).

125% Rule with initial $500 monthly investment and then maximum increased contributions¹

Even after the 10-Year Period, if you continue to satisfy the 125% Rule any additional investments will also be treated as Tax Paid on withdrawal.

This is only a brief outline of the relevant tax rules applicable to Centuria LifeGoals and these rules can change. Also, tax is usually only one of many considerations to be taken into account before making an investment decision. You should seek tax and investment advice before deciding to invest.

1. Provided for illustrative purposes only based on the assumption of 2.85% p.a. return after tax and fees. This illustrative example does not purport to represent the actual return from an investment in Centuria LifeGoals. No person guarantees any earnings or return of money invested in the Investment Options. An investment is subject to risk, the degree of which depends on the assets in which the Investment Option is invested and the investment period. Assumptions: Returns of 2.85% p.a. (after tax and fees), no adjustment made for inflation, the initial contribution in year 1 is $500 per month and this is increased by making monthly contributions equal to 125% of the prior year's monthly contribution. For example, in year 2 the monthly contribution is assumed to be $125\% \times $500 = \625 .

Alternative to superannuation

Superannuation is a tax effective way to save for retirement, with investment earnings concessional tax at 15% and (like Centuria LifeGoals) superannuation investments are Tax Paid.

However, there are a number of limitations that apply to superannuation:

- Most of us can't access our superannuation until we are at least 60 years of age.
- There are limits on how much you can contribute to superannuation.
- There is a maximum account balance once retirement is reached.

Centuria LifeGoals are a tax effective investment that addresses these limitations. With Centuria LifeGoals, you can access your investment at any time and the only limit on contributions is the 125% Rule, so that you can supplement your capped superannuation contributions and balances. To obtain the full taxation benefits applicable to Centuria LifeGoals you should comply with the 125% Rule and hold your investment for 10 years from the first contribution you make. See page 62.

	Superannuation	Centuria LifeGoals
Tax Paid	15% maximum	30% maximum
Access to funds	60 years of age or preservation age	Any time (although there may be tax consequences for withdrawing before 10 years)
Contribution cap (per annum)	$27,500 concessional ¹ $110,000 non-concessional ¹	Unlimited in year one and maximum 125% of previous year's contributions thereafter
Contributions tax	15% concessional rate (if your combined income and concessional super contributions exceed $250,000 you pay an additional 15% tax on concessional contributions, known as Division 293 tax)	Nil
Balance cap	$1.9 million in pension phase ¹	Unlimited
Investment choice	Yes	Yes
Tax return required for Investor	Yes	No (unless a taxable withdrawal is made within 10 years)
Transfer ownership	No	Yes
Estate planning	Limited dependant beneficiaries	Simple with unlimited Nominated Beneficiaries
Forms part of estate	Yes	No, if you have Nominated Beneficiaries
Death tax	Yes (for non-dependants) ²	No

Centuria LifeGoals are a simple and accessible way to invest for retirement.

1. Superannuation concessional contributions are currently capped at $27,500 for a financial year. The non-concessional contribution cap of $110,000 also applies for each financial year. Superannuation is also subject to a 'total superannuation balance' cap (which may limit Investors from making additional contributions). Penalty tax rates apply if you exceed either of these caps (Source: ATO).

2. If an individual leaves superannuation to non-dependant beneficiaries, they will incur tax on the inheritance (Source: ATO).

How Centuria LifeGoals can work for you

Alternative to managed funds, family trusts and company structures

If you invest directly in term deposits, managed funds, shares or property, you pay tax at your marginal tax rate (see the table below).

The Tax Paid on earnings within Centuria LifeGoals is capped at 30%. This may be reduced through the use of franking credits from shares and allowable deductions.

After the 10-Year Period, no tax is payable by you when you withdraw your investment (assuming you have complied with the 125% Rule).

If you withdraw your investment before the 10-Year Period and your marginal tax rate is above 30% for that financial year, you will generally be taxed on any earnings at your marginal tax rate less a tax offset for the 30% tax already paid by Centuria Life (unless the withdrawal occurs as a result of the death, injury or disability of the Life Insured).

Marginal tax rates: financial year 2022-2023

Taxable income 2023 financial year	Tax on this income
$0–$18,200	Nil
$18,201–$45,000	19 cents for each $1 over $18,200
$45,001–$120,000	$5,092 plus 32 cents for each $1 over $45,000
$120,001–$180,000	$29,467 plus 37 cents for each $1 over $120,000
$180,001 and over	$51,667 plus 45 cents for each $1 over $180,000

For example, if your annual taxable income is between $37,001 and $90,000, your marginal tax rate is 34.5% on additional income over $37,001. So, at this taxable income or higher, you can expect to pay this tax rate or higher from other investments held in your name including shares, managed funds and property.

For investments that are not Tax Paid, you may need to make complex tax planning decisions to manage potential CGT and personal tax implications or exposures. A key benefit of Centuria LifeGoals is its tax simplicity: personal tax and CGT events will not apply if you hold the investment for 10 years or more. As the 10-Year Period is calculated by reference to your initial contribution, additional contributions which satisfy the 125% Rule do not need to be invested for the full 10 years to acquire the tax- paid status.

You can also switch easily between the Investment Options without any tax or CGT implications.

This simplicity means you don't have to worry about personal tax implications if you want to actively manage your investments. If your investment views or financial goals change, you can switch between the range of Investment Options we offer. Switching does not affect the 10-Year Period required to obtain the full tax benefits from your investment.

Ownership of the investment can be transferred to any individual or a legal entity. A transfer passes all of the ownership rights of the investment to the transferee. Unlike transferring ownership of investments such as shares, managed funds and property, which can incur CGT, transferring ownership of your Centuria LifeGoals investment has no tax consequences if the transfer is for no consideration. The transferee also has the benefit of the original start date for calculating the 10-Year Period and that date is not reset when the Centuria LifeGoals investment is transferred.

A more complex alternative to investing directly in your name is to establish a family trust or company structure in which to hold your investments. These can be costly and complicated to establish and manage. A trust may also need to distribute its earnings (Centuria LifeGoals do not) and these distributions are taxed at the marginal rate of the end recipient of the distributions, which may be higher than the maximum 30% tax that is paid within Centuria LifeGoals. No additional tax will be paid on withdrawals made 10 years or more after your initial contribution or on the death of the Life Insured. Withdrawals from a trust or company may be subject to tax on earnings (income and capital gains) at your marginal rate of tax.

Peace of mind estate planning

Estate planning can get complicated and expensive, particularly when there are disputes over a deceased's intentions and wills are challenged.

As your investment in Centuria LifeGoals combines the features of a life insurance policy and an investment product, you can use your investment as part of your estate planning to simplify wealth transfers outside of your will.

You can achieve this by electing to be the Life Insured and selecting one or more Nominated Beneficiaries who are to receive the proceeds of your investment in Centuria LifeGoals after your death. Your Centuria LifeGoals investment would then not form part of your estate in the event of your death. Instead, after receiving confirmation of your death, Centuria Life will pay out the investment to your Nominated Beneficiaries. This occurs outside of the probate process and can accelerate the often complicated and time consuming process of winding up an estate.

The death benefits from Centuria LifeGoals will be Tax Paid regardless of whether your estate or Nominated Beneficiaries receive the benefits, even if the investment has been held for less than 10 years. If you are also the Life Insured, you may select Nominated Beneficiaries who are non-dependants who will receive the proceeds Tax Paid (which may not be possible for superannuation as tax may be payable if the proceeds are paid to a non-dependant). This flexibility may reduce the risk of disputes over estates and enable death benefits to be paid more quickly. You will also have the peace of mind from knowing that your intended Nominated Beneficiaries will be looked after.

You can also nominate any number of Nominated Beneficiaries and indicate the proportion of your Centuria LifeGoals investment that is to be paid to each of them.

Investment Options for a broad range of wealth needs

We understand that your appetite towards risk as well as your return objectives may change as you go through different stages in life.

How Centuria LifeGoals can work for you

Investing for children and the Child Plan

Children aged between 10 and 16 years can invest in Centuria LifeGoals in their own name, with the signed consent of their parent or guardian (as required by the Life Insurance Act).

A child under 16 years cannot make investment decisions, such as a transfer, nomination or switching.

An Investor can also hold an investment on trust for a child of any age and then later transfer the investment to that child (if the child is aged at least 10 years) with the signed consent of their parent or guardian.

Alternatively by investing via the Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan an Investor can provide for the future financial requirements of any Nominated Child at a nominated Vesting Age between 10 and 25 years of age. The Investor can maintain full ownership and control of and access to the investment.

The Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan is a special feature that provides any person, including parents and grandparents, a long-term growth investment designed to build an endowment for the future financial needs of selected children and grandchildren. A separate investment application will need to be completed for each Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan. The application can be made by single or joint owners.

The Nominated Child must be under the age of 16 at the time of application and will become the owner of the investment upon reaching an age of between 10 and 25 years, as selected by you (Vesting Age).

If the Child Plan ownership is transferred to a child between the age of 10 and under 16 years, a parent's or guardian's consent is required in order to transact on the investment. You can change the Vesting Age at any time.

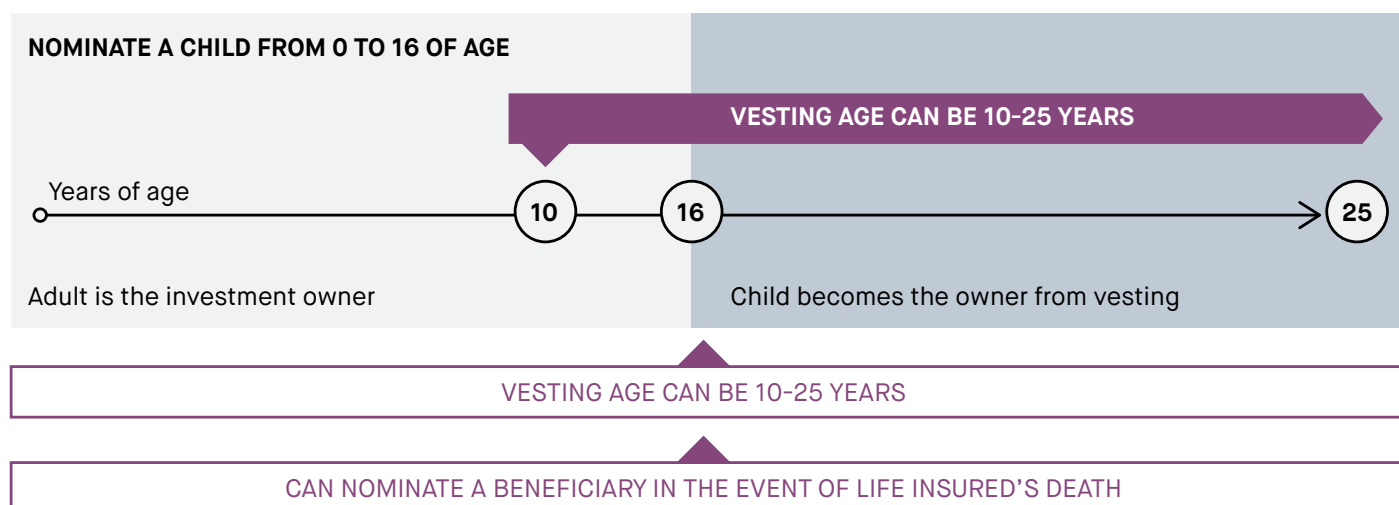

Prior to the Vesting Age of the Nominated Child, you retain full ownership, control and access to the investment, including the ability to switch between Investment Options, making additional investments utilising the 125% Rule and can undertake full or partial withdrawals for any purpose. Standard tax rules as referred to on page 11 apply.

Applications can be made on the designated Application Form by individuals or joint owners, including children aged over 16 years. Applications cannot be accepted from corporate entities or trusts. The applicant(s) must nominate a child who will automatically become the Life Insured. It is not possible to substitute children or change the Life Insured. You can also nominate a beneficiary or beneficiaries who would receive the funds if the Nominated Child were to die before the Vesting Age.

Once the Vesting Age is reached, the Child Plan is automatically transferred to the Nominated Child without any personal tax or CGT obligations for you or the child. Thereafter, the Nominated Child will have full ownership, control and access rights, including accessing investment proceeds, switching Investment Options and extending the term. Notwithstanding the vesting, the Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan retains its original commencement date.

Should you, as the Investor, die before the Vesting Age, your estate representative will become the investment owner and hold the Centuria LifeGoals in trust for the Nominated Child until the nominated Vesting Age is reached. If the selected child were to die before reaching the Vesting Age, the Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan will mature and the proceeds will be paid to you on a tax-free basis unless a beneficiary or beneficiaries have been nominated.

Centuria LifeGoals Child Plan overview

Create a tax effective income stream

Superannuation can provide an income in retirement via an allocated pension. Similarly, you can use your Centuria LifeGoals investment to accumulate wealth and then, after 10 years, elect to start receiving a tax- paid income stream. You can elect to commence receiving this income stream before the 10-Year Period, but this may attract some personal income tax (although the 30% offset for Tax Paid by Centuria Life will then apply).

The advantages of investing in Centuria LifeGoals over superannuation investments are that you can withdraw money regardless of your age and there are no caps on the contributions you can make (other than the 125% Rule) or on the total balance you can invest.

You can nominate to make withdrawals from multiple Investment Options on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis to your nominated bank account from as little as $100 per Investment Option.

The chart below demonstrates the growth in value of commencing a regular contribution plan with just $500 per month over a 10-Year Period and taking advantage of the 125% Rule each year. We have assumed earnings of 3% per annum (after tax and fees) for the full 20-year period. Based on those assumptions, after 10 years, you could withdraw a monthly income stream of $2,070 per month over a 10-Year Period before the investment has been fully withdrawn. This is provided by way of illustration only. No person guarantees any return on investments in Centuria LifeGoals or the repayment of capital invested.

10 years of contributions and 10 years of withdrawals under the 125% Rule¹

Importantly, you pay no tax on the income stream after 10 years from your initial contribution and under the 125% Rule you may continue making additional contributions after 10 years. These contribution amounts are also Tax Paid on withdrawal.

1. Provided as an illustrative example only and based on the assumption of 2.85% p.a. return after tax and fees. This illustrative example does not purport to represent the actual return from an investment in Centuria LifeGoals. No person guarantees any earnings or return on money invested in the Investment Options. An investment is subject to risk, the degree of which depends on the assets in which the Investment Option is invested and the investment period. Assumptions: Returns of 2.85% p.a. (after tax and fees), no adjustment made for inflation, the initial contribution in year one is $500 per month and this is increased by making monthly contributions equal to 125% of the prior year's monthly contribution.

Other benefits

Money invested in Centuria LifeGoals is generally protected from creditors. Centuria LifeGoals are treated as a life insurance policy for regulatory purposes and enjoys special protection under Australia's bankruptcy laws. If the Life Insured is the Investor or the Investor's spouse, the investment and its proceeds are generally protected from creditors unless the intention of the Investor in making the investment was to defeat the claims of their creditors.

An Investor in Centuria LifeGoals who is not an Australian tax resident (for example, an Australian living overseas or a foreign Investor) is treated in the same way as a resident for Australian tax purposes. That includes access to the tax offset for withdrawals made within 10 years. There is also no withholding tax payable on withdrawals remitted to a non-resident Investor.

Because tax is paid by Centuria Life you don't have to include any earnings from your Centuria LifeGoals investment in your tax return during the term of your investment.

Under current tax and privacy laws, you do not have to provide us with your tax file number.

Term

When you complete your application form you may nominate an investment term of between 10 and 40 years. You may change the investment term at any time by advising us in writing.

Regardless of the term nominated, you may withdraw some or all of your balance at any time. Your investment will mature (that is, become payable) on the earlier of the last day of the investment term and the death of the Life Insured.

We will notify you shortly before your investment term ends, so that you may advise us in writing if you wish to withdraw your investment at that time. If we do not receive any instructions from you, we will extend the investment term each year by 12 months. Your investment will continue and its tax status and other benefits will be preserved until you decide to withdraw it. Regardless of the extension to the investment term, you will continue to have access to your investment (that is, you may withdraw it) at any time and can exercise all investment ownership rights.

If you do not nominate an investment term on your application form, we will assume a term of 40 years.

Who are the participants in your Centuria LifeGoals investment?

Investor

The Investor is the person who makes the investment or who becomes the Investor following a registered transfer of the investment to them. The Investor can be an individual, company or trust.

The Investor can withdraw and be paid the proceeds from an investment at any time. They may also select the Life Insured (see below) and (if they are both the Investor and Life Insured) select Nominated Beneficiaries who will receive the withdrawal proceeds following their death.

Investment Options can be jointly owned by more than one individual. If, for example, there are two joint holders and one dies, the survivor automatically becomes entitled to the entire investment.

An Investor must be at least 16 years old. However, a child between the age of 10 and under 16 can be an Investor with their parent or guardian's consent.

An Investor can also hold an investment on trust for a child of any age and then later transfer the investment to that child (if the child is aged at least 10 years) with the signed consent of their parent or guardian.

Life Insured

As investment bonds are a type of life insurance, the Investor must select one or more natural persons as the Lives Insured. If the Investor is a natural person and does not select a person as a Life Insured, the Investor will be the Life Insured.

If the last surviving Life Insured dies, the proceeds from the Investment Options will be paid to the Investor, their Nominated Beneficiaries or the Investor's estate, as applicable.

The Investor can be the Life Insured, however they do not have to be. An Investor can name any natural person as the Life Insured. The Life Insured does not have to be related to, or be a dependant of, the Investor.

If more than one Life Insured is named, the investment will not mature until the last-named Life Insured dies.

You cannot remove a Life Insured during the term of your Centuria LifeGoals but you are able to add a Life Insured.

On the death of the Life Insured, payments made are Tax Paid regardless of the commencement date of the investment or the marginal tax rate of the Investor or the Nominated Beneficiaries.

Nominated Beneficiary

If the Investor is also the Life Insured, they can select Nominated Beneficiaries who will be entitled to be paid the proceeds of the investment in Centuria LifeGoals upon the death of the Investor/ Life Insured. The Investor may nominate any number of Nominated Beneficiaries and can indicate a proportion of the accumulated value of the Centuria LifeGoals investment to be paid to each upon Centuria LifeGoals maturity, e.g. 25% to each of four Nominated Beneficiaries.

Nominated Beneficiaries may be individuals or an entity such as a company or a trustee.

The Nominated Beneficiaries can be revoked or changed at any time by the Investor up until their death.

Single nominations are automatically revoked upon the death of a Nominated Beneficiary prior to your investment in Centuria LifeGoals maturing.

Where one of a number of Nominated Beneficiaries dies prior to your investment in Centuria LifeGoals maturing, the deceased Nominated Beneficiary's entitlement lapses and will be reallocated to the surviving Nominated Beneficiaries on a pro-rata basis, taking into account their original proportionate entitlements.

If there is no Nominated Beneficiary, investment proceeds from the Centuria LifeGoals will be paid to the Investor or the Investor's estate.

Assignees

Ownership of Centuria LifeGoals can be assigned (or transferred) to any individual or entity if the assigning Investor is at least 16 years of age. An assignment confers all of the ownership rights of the Investment Option to the assignee. The selected Life Insured remains but the new Investor may select additional Lives Insured.

When you transfer ownership of Investment Options, the nomination of any existing Nominated Beneficiaries ceases to have legal effect. If the new Investor is also the Life Insured, they can select new Nominated Beneficiaries.

Investment risk overview

By investing in Centuria LifeGoals you can diversify your investment across a variety of Investment Options and so spread the risk of investing.

Each of the Investment Options involve some risk. The risk and return profile of each Investment Option depends on the underlying assets held. The Centuria LifeGoals Investment Options offered can be categorised within the following groups:

- Cash and fixed interest funds
- Diversified balanced funds
- Diversified growth funds
- Australian share funds
- International share funds
- Property and infrastructure funds

You may be able to manage the risk profile of your investment in Centuria LifeGoals by investing in different Investment Options. Each Investment Option has a different investment objective, strategy and level of risk. It is important that you choose Investment Options that suit your risk profile.

Generally, the more defensive assets held, such as cash and fixed interest, the lower the returns and risk. The more growth assets held (such as shares), the greater the potential for higher returns and higher risk.

The movement of returns from positive to negative over a period of time, is referred to as the 'volatility of returns' and this volatility is used to approximate the level of risk in an investment.

As well as exposure to growth assets, risk can also be affected by an Investment Option's investment strategy and its level of diversification across assets, asset classes and markets.

It is best to measure risk and return over the longer term to minimise the impact of short term volatility.

Further detail on the risks that may affect the volatility of returns or the value of your investment can be found on page 48 of the PDS.

Before you invest in Centuria LifeGoals, we recommend that you read the disclosure document issued by the investment manager which relates to each Investment Option that interests you and obtain advice from a financial planner or tax adviser (or both).

By investing in a range of funds you can tailor your portfolio within Centuria LifeGoals to match your specific risk and return requirements.

Risk level of Investment Options

Standard risk measure

Centuria Life uses the Standard Risk Measure (SRM), as detailed in the table below, to allow Investors to compare Investment Options based on the number of negative annual returns over any 20-year period. The risk level of each of the Investment Options using the SRM can be seen on pages 30-41. Investors should be aware that the SRM does not take into account all types of investment risk and that it does not constitute financial or personal advice. Investors should consider all relevant risks when considering which Investment Options to invest in. Investors should also note that changes in the market and the methodology of calculating the SRM may alter the SRM.

Risk band	Risk label	Estimated number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period
1	Very low	Less than 0.5
2	Low	0.5 to less than 1
3	Low to Medium	1 to less than 2
4	Medium	2 to less than 3
5	Medium to High	3 to less than 4
6	High	4 to less than 6
7	Very High	6 or greater

How we select our investment managers and Investment Options

Investment choice

Centuria LifeGoals offers a broad investment menu covering the following asset classes: cash, fixed interest, property, infrastructure, international and Australian shares, small companies, diversified funds and total return targeted funds.

Centuria LifeGoals provide access to a wide range of high quality active investment managers selected by Centuria Life and low cost specialised index investments.

How we select underlying managers

The active investment managers have been carefully selected to offer a high level of expertise in their chosen fields. They offer different investment styles to satisfy a wide variety of Investor goals.

Active investment managers conduct research and choose to be underweight or overweight in different stocks and sectors. Their objective is to outperform a relevant index. These investment managers will typically charge a higher fee than index managers and may charge a performance fee. We provide access to a range of active investment managers that vary in style and objectives, who have been selected based on a range of measures.

As part of the selection process, our team meets with and interviews prospective investment managers. Our research is focused on providing access through the Investment Options to high quality investment managers in each asset class.

We will conduct reviews of the investment menu to monitor whether each Investment Option and investment manager is operating in a manner consistent with the description in this PDS. At times, investment managers with a certain style or bias may underperform and this will be monitored by Centuria Life and investment managers may be replaced from time to time.

A low cost index option is also available to Investors for each major asset class. Index managers aim to replicate the performance of the relevant index they track and will typically have lower management fees as they do not conduct the in-depth research required for active investment management.

For example, an Australian large cap share index manager seeks to mirror the performance of the ASX All Ordinaries Index by replicating its holdings.

Centuria LifeGoals offer a variety of Investment Options managed by a range of active managers and specialised index managers. Therefore, our Investment Options are able to help fulfil the investment strategies of a diverse group of Investors.

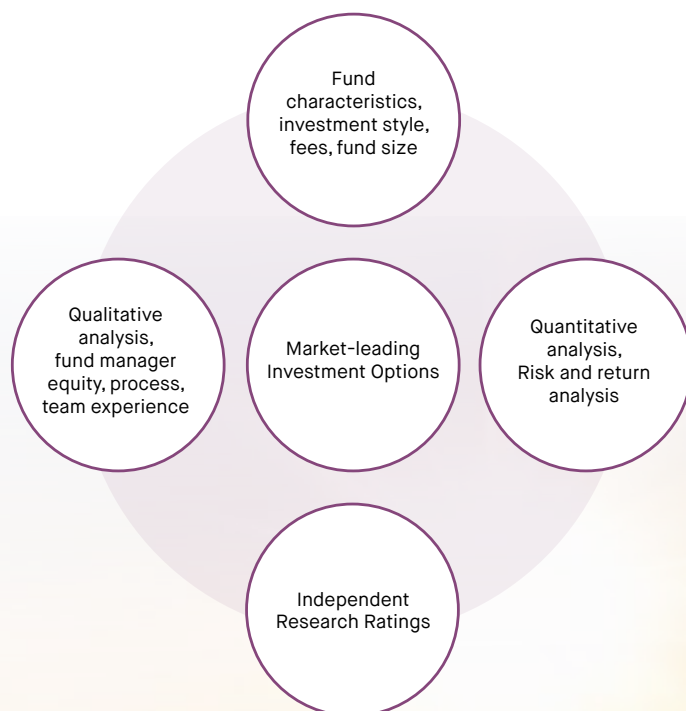

Investors can select the investment managers and asset classes that best meet their objectives, financial situation and needs.

Investment process

We believe that investment choice is important for Investors. Selecting the right investment manager is an important investment decision.

Centuria Life undertakes research and due diligence enquiries to select and review the investment managers and funds to place on the investment menu.

The diagram below summarises the key considerations Centuria Life uses to select investment managers.

Centuria Life believes that a robust investment process is important to making good long term decisions.

In reviewing investment managers, Centuria Life considers the following:

Fund characteristics

- Investment style such as value, growth or quantitative
- Competitive fee structure
- Funds under management relative to sector size that may influence ability to execute trading strategies

Research house ratings

- Research from a number of independent research agencies are analysed and only those funds with superior ratings will be considered

Quantitative analysis

- Superior risk-adjusted returns to peers
- Absolute return comparisons that include trailing total returns, calendar period performance and rolling-period results versus appropriate style-based benchmarks and/or peer groups
- Various risk or return volatility measures such as standard deviation, beta and/or maximum drawdown analysis
- Regression analysis
- Risk adjusted metrics, such as Alpha Ratio, Sharpe Ratio, Information Ratio and Sortino Ratio

Qualitative analysis

- Centuria Life will meet and interview prospective investment managers to make well-informed investment decisions
- An analysis of investment professional talent is important in the evaluation of investment managers
- We generally look for established investment teams that have worked together for a number of years
- Low staff turnover is generally desirable

Centuria Life also takes advice from external experts and investment consultants and its actuary (appointed pursuant to provisions of the Life Insurance Act) on a range of investment management matters.

In implementing the investment strategies of Centuria LifeGoals we may from time to time:

- add, remove or replace investment managers. The structure of Centuria LifeGoals means investment managers who do not meet the investment criteria can be replaced without tax implications to the Investor. This is an advantage of Centuria LifeGoals over a managed fund or share investment where the change of a trustee/underlying investment manager may have CGT implications for Investors; and/or
- write to Investors providing at least 30 days notice of the intention to replace an investment manager, outlining why the change is being made and will provide information on the replacement investment manager; or
- cease to accept new contributions into one or more of our Investment Options.

Centuria LifeGoals Investment Options

There are a range of Investment Options to choose from that invest in a single underlying manager across a range of asset classes. Centuria Life have selected high quality active investment managers with a low-cost index option available to investors for each major asset class. The active investment managers have been carefully selected to offer a high level of expertise in their chosen fields. They offer different investment styles to satisfy a wide variety of investor goals.

Responsible investing Investment Options

What are environmental, social and governance criteria

Environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria are a set of standards for a company’s operations that socially conscious Investors use to screen potential investments. Environmental criteria consider how a company performs as a steward of nature. Social criteria examine how it manages relationships with employees, suppliers, customers and the communities where it operates. Governance deals with a company’s leadership, executive pay, audits, internal controls and shareholder rights.

Labour standards and environmental, social and ethical considerations

In setting or implementing investment strategies for Centuria LifeGoals and when selecting or retaining investment managers, we do not give additional weight to labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations. Importantly though, Centuria Life supports sustainable, socially responsible enterprises that also offer attractive prospective returns and Centuria Life may classify certain Investment Options as a responsible investing investment option. In order for a fund to be included as a responsible investing investment option, our screening process has been adapted in order to seek Investment Options that have strong environmental, social and governance practices that contribute to the achievement of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and are signatories to the Principles of Responsible Investing (PRI).

What are the key considerations to ESG investing?

	Environmental <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Climate change• Resource depletion• Waste• Pollution• Deforestation
	Social <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Human rights• Modern slavery• Child labour• Working conditions• Employee relations
	Governance <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Bribery and corruption• Executive pay• Board diversity and structure• Political lobbying and donations• Tax strategy

The Principles of Responsible Investing

The Principle of Responsible Investing (PRI) is the world’s leading proponent of responsible investment.

It works to understand the investment implications of ESG factors and to support its international network of Investor signatories in incorporating these factors into their investment and ownership decisions. The PRI acts in the long term interests of its signatories, of the financial markets and economies in which they operate and ultimately of the environment and society as a whole.

The PRI is truly independent. It encourages Investors to use responsible investment to enhance returns and better manage risks, but does not operate for its own profit; it engages with global policymakers but is not associated with any government; it is supported by, but not part of, the United Nations.

The PRI works with its international network of signatories to put the six Principles for Responsible Investment into practice.

Its goals are to understand the investment implications of environmental, social and governance issues and to support signatories in integrating these issues into investment and ownership decisions. The six principles were developed by Investors and are supported by the UN. They have more than 2,000 signatories from over 60 countries representing over US$80 trillion of assets.

The six Principles of Responsible Investing are a voluntary and aspirational set of principles that offer a menu of possible actions for incorporating ESG issues into investment practice:

- Principle 1: We will incorporate ESG issues into investment analysis and decision making processes.
- Principle 2: We will be active owners and incorporate ESG issues into our ownership policies and practices.
- Principle 3: We will seek appropriate disclosure on ESG issues by the entities in which we invest.
- Principle 4: We will promote acceptance and implementation of the Principles within the investment industry.
- Principle 5: We will work together to enhance our effectiveness in implementing the Principles.
- Principle 6: We will each report on our activities and progress towards implementing the Principles.

Responsible investing – meet the managers

Alphinity Sustainable Share Fund

As a recognised signatory of the PRI, Alphinity takes into account labour standards and environmental, social and ethical considerations when making investment decisions. Alphinity currently retains the services of external expert research providers to undertake Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) benchmarking and sustainability research as well as to provide a quantitative database of environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) characteristics, including labour standards, of the companies in the Fund's universe. Some of the key responsible investment factors taken into account by Alphinity are referred to below.

Negative screen

Alphinity avoids companies that are involved in activities we consider harmful to society and/or display poor practices in their management of ESG issues. The fund has a public charter which sets out core beliefs and a negative screen eliminates companies that generate more than 10% of revenues (cumulative) from activities considered incompatible with the charter, including:

- High impact fuels such as thermal coal, uranium, oil sands, Arctic drilling and coal seam gas fracking
- Gold mining
- Animal mistreatment
- Addictions such as gambling, alcohol and tobacco
- Armaments manufacturers
- Old growth forest logging and users of non-RSPO palm oil
- Predatory lending and hostile debt collection
- Pornography

However, for risk management purposes, in volatile markets, Alphinity may choose to divest a holding in a company that has breached any negative screen in an orderly manner so as not to unduly affect investment performance. The timeframe for divestment would typically be two months, subject to liquidity constraints.

Positive screen

The positive screen actively seeks companies whose operations and/or products support the UN Sustainable Development Goals and provide positive ESG outcomes, as well as companies with superior ESG characteristics. It utilises, among other things, the output of the external expert research providers to assess the sustainability of companies and the relative merits between companies in similar sectors. Specific considerations are as follows.

Sustainability

Alphinity considers the revenue source from operations and the degree to which that revenue is derived from sustainable products and services. As sustainable investing is relatively new and disclosure by companies can be poor, Alphinity utilises the services of independent sustainability experts alongside the external research providers to gain further insights.

Environmental

Alphinity considers companies' strategies and actions to address specific environmental issues arising from its operations. This includes an assessment of how each company manages its environmental impacts and the extent to which companies aim to develop and integrate existing production processes and inputs with more durable, recyclable or renewable alternatives.

Social

In order to assess labour standards and practices, Alphinity considers the management of a company's occupational health and safety risks and any other human resource management issue that relates to company operations. Alphinity also considers a company's level of community support and engagement – the degree to which it operates as a responsible corporate citizen.

Governance

Alphinity monitors corporate governance by analysing the incorporation of strong governance structures and processes and corporate values. It considers regulatory compliance by examining the standards, transparency and appropriateness of a company's statutory reporting procedures and compliance with relevant legislation and regulatory requirements. The final portfolio is determined by Alphinity's fundamental analysis, its sector views as well as its strong focus on risk management. The process is more fully described below.

Investment universe and portfolio construction

The investment universe is comprised of Australian stocks listed on the Australian Securities Exchange. The final portfolio will be made up of between 35 and 55 stocks depending on the outcome of: the negative screen; a company's ESG ranking, sustainability score, CRM score; and fundamental analysis by the investment team. Portfolio construction guidelines limit the fund's exposure to any one company or sector. To ensure the financial and social analysis, as well as the screening process are efficiently and appropriately combined, Alphinity, the compliance committee with independent sustainability experts and the external advisers maintain ongoing communication and monitoring of information sources.

Ongoing monitoring

There is ongoing monitoring of the investment, ESG and SDG merits of companies contained in the fund's portfolio to assist in maintaining a portfolio that reflects attractive investment opportunities which meet the funds sustainable investing criteria and philosophy. These are monitored on a daily basis. If a company in the portfolio no longer meets the investment and ESG/SDG criteria, it will be sold from the portfolio in an orderly manner so as not to unduly affect the interests of unitholders adversely, typically within two months. The review and monitoring of the portfolio and the companies held takes place actively by a team of investment specialists and the compliance committee with independent sustainability experts meets monthly to consider new and review existing investments in the portfolio. The ESG and SDG company rating, including the negative and positive screens, are reviewed monthly by Alphinity's external research providers. Furthermore, Alphinity continually monitors the macroeconomic climate to identify emerging global and domestic trends for potential Fund impacts and opportunities. This forms part of the decision as to which stocks are included in the fund's portfolio, its exposure to industries and the overall characteristics of the fund.

Pendal Sustainable Balanced Fund

PENDAL

Sustainable and ethical investment practices are currently incorporated into the Australian and international shares and Australian and international fixed interest components of the fund. All other investments by the fund are not screened for sustainable or ethical investment practices.

The fund invests in securities that are considered to meet the fund's sustainable and ethical criteria.

Pendal's sustainable assessment process considers the extent to which a company exhibits appropriate strategic recognition, board oversight, policies and systems to manage the company's material environment, social and corporate governance (ESG) issues.

Specifically, the assessment may consider issues such as:

Environmental management

- Management of environmental impacts through the implementation of best practice environmental techniques, technologies and product design.
- Environmental performance against a range of environmental indicators including, for example, greenhouse gas emissions, energy and water use and environmental incidents.
- The capacity to consult key stakeholders in relation to activities that may have significant environmental impacts.
- Adoption of best practice with regards to management and disclosure of material risks and opportunities associated with climate change.

Social practices

- Equal opportunity, anti-discrimination and industrial relations policies and practices.
- Staff incentives, development and training.
- Human capital management performance against a range of indicators, such as voluntary turnover and gender diversity in senior management.
- Products or services that provide positive social impacts such as improved health and community wellbeing, disease prevention and education.
- Management of contractors and suppliers.
- Workplace health and safety performance against indicators such as fatalities and lost time injury frequency rate.

Corporate governance and business conduct

- Codes of conduct and the extent of their integration into the company's operations.
- Provision of regular and appropriate training.
- Whistleblower policies and procedures.
- Ethical conduct and performance of employees and officers – the extent to which companies are adopting principles in areas such as complying with the law, fair and open dealings and accepting responsibility for their actions.
- Product safety and consumer protection.
- Engagement practices with employees, shareholders and key community stakeholders.

Ethical practices

Across the Australian and international shares and Australian and international fixed interest components, the fund will not invest in companies and issuers with material business involvement in the following activities:

- The production of tobacco or alcohol.
- Manufacture or provision of gaming facilities.
- Manufacture of weapons or armaments.
- Manufacture or distribution of pornography.
- Directly mine uranium for the purpose of weapons manufacturing.
- Extraction of thermal coal and oil sands production.

We consider that a company has a material business involvement in an activity if 10% or more of its total revenue is derived from that activity.

The fund applies a sustainable and ethical assessment process to fixed interest credit issuers. For fixed interest securities issued by Government related entities covered by our sustainability research database we do assess the related sustainability characteristics and typically prefer issuers with higher sustainability ratings.

How these factors are taken into account when selecting investments

Companies and issuers within each industry sector of the Australian shares, international shares, Australian fixed interest and international fixed interest benchmarks are assigned a sustainable and ethical rating relative to industry peers, based upon ESG and ethical factors. The investable universe consists of companies or issuers satisfying the sustainable and ethical rating process.

Companies or issuers with higher sustainable ratings will typically be favoured to those with lower scores. Lower ranked companies or issuers will generally be excluded from the fund's investable universe.

The criteria applied to the fund's investments may exclude some industry sectors, companies or issuers from the fund's 'investable universe'. For this reason the fund's performance may vary when compared to other funds that do not apply sustainable screens in their investment process.

This risk should be considered when deciding whether to invest in the fund.

The fund's compliance with the investment guidelines is reviewed regularly (usually monthly, but this timeframe is not fixed). If our review process identifies that an investment ceases to comply with the investment guidelines for the fund, the investment will usually be sold as soon as reasonably practicable, having regard to the interests of investors (but this may vary on a case by case basis).

Centuria multi-manager Investment Options

Centuria multi-manager Investment Options

There are multi-manager Investment Options available that are managed by Centuria Life. The External Managers and underlying investments in each of the Investment Options have been selected based on the screening and asset allocation by Committee. The Investment Options may suit a range of investment styles and different investment risk levels.

In addition to the investment screening and selection process discussed on page 28, the Centuria Life Investment Committee will manage the investment allocation between the selected asset managers asset classes according to the Fund Rules.

About us

Centuria Life is one of Australia's largest friendly societies based on funds under management and we have been managing Investors' funds since we were established in 1980.

As a life insurance company, we are regulated by APRA. We also hold an Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL), which authorises us to deal in and provide general financial product advice on investment life insurance products, such as the Centuria LifeGoals.

Centuria Life Investment Committee

Our Investment Committee is responsible for approving and overseeing the implementation of the investment strategy for each of the Investment Options. The Investment Committee is responsible for making decisions on matters such as asset allocation, investment manager selection and portfolio construction. The Investment Committee also takes advice from external experts and investment consultants and our Appointed actuary, on a range of investment management matters. Our Investment Committee meets regularly to review the investment strategies for the Investment Options.

We select investments after conducting a detailed review process, which includes regular meetings with current and External Managers, consideration of their investment style, investment process, the expertise of their investment team, past performance and other factors. We also review our External Managers' performance on an ongoing basis to ensure they operate in accordance with our specified investment criteria.

Each of our External Managers (including any who are our related companies) are entitled to receive fees for their services at commercial rates as agreed from time to time by us. See page 54 for further detail on fees and charges.

The underlying assets of the Centuria multi-manager Investment Options may be managed using a range of External Managers and investment styles. We may appoint External Managers pursuant to an individual investment mandate or invest via a managed fund.

Authorised investments

The assets of each Investment Option must be invested in accordance with the Life Insurance Act (including any prudential standards made under the Life Insurance Act) and the Fund Rules.

The Fund Rules specify a range of authorised investments into which the assets of an Investment Option may be invested (see page 64 for details on how you can view a copy of the Fund Rules).

Use of derivatives

We and/or the External Managers may use derivatives, such as futures and options, for hedging purposes and/or to implement an investment strategy. However, we and/or the External Managers will not use derivatives for gearing purposes or speculative activities. If derivatives are used, it is on the basis that the relevant Investment Option can always meet its commitments without having to borrow.

The risks of investing

An investment in one of the Investment Options is subject to varying degrees of risk and the value of your investment can go down as well as up. Changes in the value of your investment can be significant and can happen quickly. Different types of investments perform differently at certain times and have varying risk characteristics, which can result in fluctuations in the value of an investment.

Generally, the higher the exposure an Investment Option has to growth assets, such as shares and property, the higher the volatility of its returns. Diversified funds offer exposure to a wider range of asset classes and typically have less volatility than a single asset class fund.

Significant risks

While all investments have a degree of risk, there are numerous risks that may affect the value of your investment, the investment returns you receive and the achievement of your investment objectives which you should consider before making a decision to invest. Summarised below are the significant risks to Investors in Centuria LifeGoals:

Market risk

Market risk is the possibility that the market for a particular asset has negative returns over a short or extended period of time.

Market risk may be caused by events such as inflation, the level of interest rates, Investor sentiment or global events.

Security specific risk

Security specific risk is the risk that an individual security will experience negative returns or underperformance. In any asset class, performance will be impacted by market performance, as well as the risk of a negative return in any individual security held in a portfolio.

Regulatory risk

Changes in the government's fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies (including changes to the taxation laws in relation to investment funds) or statutory changes may affect Centuria LifeGoals and an investment it contains.

Taxation risk

Changes to tax laws and government policies that affect the tax treatment of investment bonds and the underlying investments managed by the investment managers, may reduce the returns from and the value of your investment in Centuria LifeGoals.

Investment manager risk

Investment manager risk is where the External Managers may not achieve their investment objectives or suffer changes or instability with their management. We do not guarantee the performance of any investment manager or Investment Option. By investing in Centuria LifeGoals you are relying on the skills of the External Managers to manage your investment, and you do not have control over their investment decisions. There is a risk that an investment manager does not properly manage your investment, resulting in financial loss to your investment.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that the counterparties to an investment become insolvent or fail to meet their payment obligations. This may reduce returns on fixed interest funds.

Country risk

Country risk applies only to funds that invest in international assets. It is the potential for adverse political, economic or social developments to reduce the return of an investment in a particular country, e.g. political instability, recession or war.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is associated with investments that are difficult to sell and which may not be easily converted into cash without a reduction in their capital value. For example, an unlisted property fund will be less liquid than a cash fund or a fixed interest fund.

Currency risk

Currency risk applies only to funds that invest in international assets and is where fluctuations in the exchange rates between the Australian dollar and foreign currencies may cause the value of investments to decline within an Investment Option that is invested in international assets. However, the converse may occur when the fluctuation between the Australian dollar and foreign currencies is positive. Managers of international assets may seek to manage the risk of unfavorable currency movements by hedging the currency risk. The currency exposure may not be hedged in all instances, which could also result in unfavorable currency movements. If an asset is unhedged, it will outperform the same asset that is hedged if the Australian dollar falls in value.

Derivative risk

Investment managers may invest in derivatives such as futures, options and forward exchange contracts. Derivatives may be used for hedging purposes and/or to implement an investment strategy (e.g. as an alternative to buying and selling of physical securities). Derivatives are highly leveraged investments, which mean losses can be magnified in times of adverse market movements. The External Managers may seek to minimise this risk by investing in derivative contracts where the behaviour is expected to resemble that of the underlying assets held. Derivatives contracts are not used for speculative or leveraging purposes.

Gearing risk

Some of the Investment Options may use gearing. The use of gearing (borrowing money to increase the amount invested) will magnify the volatility of investment returns. Investors in a geared portfolio may have larger fluctuations in the value of their investment compared to Investors in an ungeared portfolio.

Inflation risk

The return you receive on your investment may not necessarily exceed the inflation rate in Australia. This risk is increased for assets such as cash and fixed interest. Growth assets such as shares and property may be more likely to produce returns in excess of the inflation rate over the long term, but may be more volatile in the shorter term.

Interest rate risk

Changes in interest rates can reduce the value of your investment or the returns on your investment. The effect of interest rate changes will vary depending on the asset class and the individual securities within the asset class. Bonds, for example, tend to fall when interest rates rise, reducing investment returns.

Operational risk

If Centuria Life does not properly manage the operation and administration of the Investment Options, there is a risk that there may be a reduction in the value of your investment. This may result from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events (including legal risk).

Short selling risk

Some of the investment managers may engage in short selling as part of their investment strategy. Short selling involves the manager 'borrowing' a security and then selling it in the expectation that the price will fall so that it can be bought back later at a profit. This strategy will result in a loss if the value of the security rises instead of falls, because it is bought back for more than it was sold.

Asset risk

Each class of assets has its own specific risks. Specific risks for the main asset classes include:

Cash

Cash assets include short term fixed interest securities, bank deposits and term deposits. Cash investments are generally stable, but long term returns have generally been lower than other asset classes.

Fixed interest

The main risk affecting fixed interest securities is credit risk if the issuer of the fixed interest security defaults in the payment of interest or the repayment of principal. Changes in interest rates are also a risk as generally the value of the investment falls if interest rates rise.

Shares

Shares include Australian and international shares. Shares carry a number of risks, including:

- failure to meet expected dividends;
- failure to deliver expected franking credits;
- poor management of the company;
- management changes;
- adverse economic conditions;
- adverse market sentiment; and
- currency risk for investment in unhedged international shares.

Property

Property includes listed and direct property, both domestic and international. Property carries a number of risks, including:

- decline in property values;
- vacancies;
- defaults by tenants;
- lack of liquidity of the underlying property;
- unprofitable property developments; and
- international investment risk for global property.

Fees and other costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your fund balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You may be able to negotiate lower fees and other costs. Ask us or your financial adviser.

Find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed investment fee calculator to help you check out the different fee options.

This section shows the fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your investment, from the returns on your investment or assets of the Investment Options as a whole. The impact of taxes on your investment is covered on page 54.

You should read all of the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

1. External Manager Fees and Costs include the External Manager's management fee, estimated recoverable expenses and any other indirect costs of the External Managers. The External Manager Fees and Costs are shown after the effect of a 30% tax benefit is passed on to Investors. They are calculated by reducing the applicable gross management fee by 30% p.a.
2. Total estimated fees and costs includes the Centuria Life administration fee and the External Managers' management fees and costs, but excludes any performance fee referred to in the table on the next page.
3. Performance fees, by their nature are calculated on past performance and are not indicative of future performance fees that may become payable in the future. Any performance fees are not charged directly to your investment. Performance fees are calculated by the underlying manager on the net asset value of the underlying portfolio of the relevant Investment Option. For performance fees see the table above. For more information on performance fees see page 54.

Example of annual fees and costs

The table below gives an example of how the fees and costs of Centuria LifeGoals can affect your investment over a one year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other investment products.

We have used the BetaShares Australian Investment Grade Corporate Bond ETF for the purposes of this example and have shown the fees and costs that would be charged against the value of your investment if you made an initial investment of $50,000 and an additional investment of $5,000 on the last day of the year of the initial investment date. The example is provided as an illustration only and is not necessarily indicative of the amount of fees and costs that may be incurred in the future.

Betashares Australian Investment Grade Corporate Bond ETF		Balance of $50,000 with a contribution of $5,000 during year
Contribution fees	0.00%	For every additional $5,000 you put in, you will be charged $0.
Centuria Life administration fee	0.30%	For every $50,000 you have in the Investment Option you will be charged $240 each year.
BetaShares fees and costs	0.18%
Total estimated fees and costs¹	0.48%
Equals cost of fund	If you had an investment of $50,000 at the beginning of the year and you invest an additional $5,000 during that year, you would be charged fees between $240 and $264. What it costs you will depend on the Investment Option you choose and the fees you negotiate.

This example does not take into account the impact of any financial adviser service fee and remuneration that you may have agreed with your financial adviser if you have appointed one. It also assumes that no performance fee is payable to the External Manager.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

External Manager Fees and Costs

These are the fees and costs charged by the External Managers to manage their respective investment fund. They are deducted by the External Manager from their underlying fund and are included in the unit price for the Investment Option. The External Managers may also charge performance fees. These fees and costs are paid monthly in arrears out of the assets of the relevant underlying fund.

Buy/sell margin

For most Investment Options, there is a difference between the unit price used to issue and redeem units and the value of the Investment Option's assets per unit. This is called the buy/sell margin. When you invest, switch or withdraw all or part of your investment in an Investment Option, we use the buy/sell margin to pay for the transactional costs incurred as a result of the transaction. We use the buy/sell margin to allocate transactional costs to the transacting Investor rather than other Investors in the Investment Option.

The estimated buy/sell margin that applies to each Investment Option is shown on page 56. The buy/sell margin is an additional cost included in the unit price of each Investment Option when it is issued or redeemed. The buy/sell margin can be altered without prior notice to you.

For example, the acquisition or redemption of $10,000 worth of units in the Centuria Investment Bond Pendal Short Term Income Securities Fund, with a Buy/Sell Margin of 0.03%/0.03%, would incur a cost of $3.

Performance fees

Some External Managers charge a performance fee, which can increase the cost to the Investor (please refer to page 53). Typically, these performance fees are calculated as a percentage of any outperformance over a relevant index or hurdle return rate and are paid to the External Manager. If the External Manager underperforms the relevant index or hurdle they receive no performance fee.

Any performance fees are not charged directly to your investment.

Performance fees are included in the value of the underlying portfolio of the relevant Investment Option. They are not paid to Centuria Life. The amount of any performance fee will depend on the performance of the External Manager.

Other taxes and stamp duty

All fees, charges and adviser remuneration shown are inclusive of the impact of GST (where applicable) and less any reduced input tax credits (for GST purposes) available to each of the respective Investment Options, except where otherwise indicated.

A relatively minor amount of stamp duty may be chargeable in some states for the establishment of your investment. Where it does apply it is only payable on your initial contribution and generally not on any additional investments that you make. For an initial investment up to $50,000, Centuria Life will pay any stamp duty that is chargeable in the relevant state. For initial investment amounts of greater than $50,000, we will deduct the stamp duty from your initial investment exceeding $50,000 and notify you of the cost in your transaction confirmation.

As at the date of this PDS, the stamp duty payable in New South Wales, Queensland and Tasmania on the establishment of a fund with an initial investment of $50,000 is $49. For further information on tax please see the 'Additional tax information' section on page 62.

1. The total estimated fees and costs include Centuria Life Administration Fee and the External Managers' Fees and Costs, but excludes any performance fee (referred to in the table on page 53) and transactional and operational costs (refer to page 55 for definition of the transactional and operational costs).

Differential fees

We may waive fees or enter into arrangements or individually negotiate fees with certain Investors or licensed financial advisers (such as charging lower fees for large Investors) at our discretion and as permitted by the Corporations Act.

Change of fees

From time to time, we may alter our fees (for example, due to changes in the competitive and regulatory environment or due to changes to our costs in managing the Investment Options). However, this is subject to any maximum fee set out in the Fund Rules.

Currently the Fund Rules provide for a maximum contribution fee of 5% of the gross asset value and a maximum management fee of 3% of the gross asset value per annum. The Fund Rules do not currently allow an exit or withdrawal fee to be charged. We can change the fees without your consent; however, we will not increase the fees without providing you with at least two months prior written notice.

Initial financial adviser service fees

Financial adviser service fees are fees charged by your financial adviser for the provision of advice and services by them. They are not fees that are paid to Centuria Life. You should negotiate the level of fees after carefully considering the impact of the fees on your investment and the value of the services that are being provided to you.

You can change the fees that we pay your adviser on your behalf by giving us written notice.

By completing the financial adviser details section of the application form, you can instruct us to collect and pay a financial adviser service fee to your adviser either:

- as a one-off fee paid from your initial investment; or
- as a set percentage fee paid from each contribution you make at our discretion and as permitted by the Corporations Act.

Ongoing financial adviser service fees

If you wish to pay a fee to an adviser out of your investment, you can, by completing the financial adviser details section of the application form, instruct Centuria Life to pay your financial adviser an ongoing financial adviser service fee for the provision of ongoing advice and service in relation to your investment in Centuria LifeGoals. This fee is deducted from your investment.

If you are paying an ongoing fee to your financial adviser, you should check that you are in fact receiving services for that fee. If you are not happy with the level of services being provided you should speak to your financial adviser. You can give instructions to us varying the fees that we pay your financial adviser.

You should also check the terms of your agreement with your financial adviser. Ongoing financial adviser service fees are usually paid to financial advisers on or before the 21st day of each month.

For example, if you have a $10,000 investment and you elect to pay your adviser an ongoing financial adviser service fee of 0.50% p.a. of the value of your investment or $50 p.a., your unit holding in the investment will be adjusted (that is reduced by making withdrawals) on a monthly basis to make this payment. This is a simplified example, which does not take into consideration changes in the value of your investment during each year.

Centuria Life does not monitor the ongoing services provided by a financial adviser to you. You should regularly review the services provided by your financial adviser and consider if their fees are appropriate. If they are not, you can change the fees we deduct and pay to your financial adviser on your behalf by giving us written notice.

Transactional and operational costs

Each Investment Option may incur transactional and operational costs. Operational costs are an estimate of the ongoing expenses that are recoverable under the Fund Rules.

Transactional costs include brokerage, trading costs, settlement costs, clearing costs, any applicable stamp duty when the underlying investments are bought or sold and other indirect costs we determine.

When you invest, switch or withdraw all or part of your investment in an Investment Option, we use the buy/sell margin to pay for the transactional costs payable. The buy/sell margin is used to allocate transactional costs to the transacting Investor rather than other Investors in the Investment Option.

The estimated buy/sell margin for each Investment Option is shown on page 56. The buy/sell margin is an additional cost included in the unit price of each Investment Option when it is issued or redeemed. The actual buy/sell margin is subject to change from time to time depending on changes to the composition of the Investment Option's assets. The buy/sell margins can be altered without prior notice to you.

Operational costs are reflected in the Investment Option's unit price. These costs vary depending on the Investment Option and currently range between 0.08% p.a. and 0.80% p.a. Further information about indirect transactional and operational costs as they impact each individual Investment Option, can be found on page 56.

An estimate of the transactional and operational costs for each Investment Option is provided in the table on the next page.

Investing in Centuria LifeGoals

Minimum amounts

Minimum initial investment	$500
Minimum balance per Investment Option	$500
Minimum Regular Investment Plan	$500 one off additional contribution. $100 monthly, quarterly or annually through a Regular Investment Plan.
Minimum switching amount	$500
Minimum withdrawal amount	$500

Initial investment amount

The minimum initial investment amount is $500. There is no maximum investment amount. Application forms and step by step instructions are included later in this PDS. After your initial investment, you can make additional contributions.

Centuria Life may accept or reject an application at its discretion.

As investments in the Investments Options are unitised, you will be issued a number of units in the relevant Investment Option at a unit purchase price calculated as the Unit Sale Price plus the expected costs of acquiring and realising the investments in the Investment Option, expressed on a per unit basis.

Cooling off period

If you change your mind about investing in Centuria LifeGoals you may cancel your application by notifying us in writing within 14 days of the earlier of the date our confirmation advice is mailed to you or the end of the fifth day after we accept your application by issuing your confirmation.

The refund will be calculated using the unit price calculated as at the close of business on the day we receive the refund request.

The refund will be the total amount invested adjusted for any reasonable transaction costs, taxes or duties that are not recoverable. Therefore, the amount refunded may be more or less than the amount invested. If the amount refunded exceeds the amount invested, the excess will be assessable for tax under the same rules applicable to withdrawals within eight years.

Please note that the cooling off period does not apply to additional investments, Regular Investment Plan investments or switches or following the first exercise of any right or power under the Investment Option. Additionally, cooling off rights are not available to certain types of Investors, described under the Corporations Act as being sophisticated, professional or wholesale Investors.

Additional investments

Additional investments can be made at any time to your Investment Option investment. The minimum additional 'one off' contribution is $500 unless you invest through a Regular Investment Plan (see below).

A Regular Investment Plan allows you to make regular investments via direct debit on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis. The minimum Regular Investment Plan investment is $100 a month. Funds will be automatically debited from your nominated account at the frequency you choose.

Investment values

The value of each Investment Option is calculated by multiplying the number of units by the prevailing Unit Sale Price.

Withdrawals

When you invest in Centuria LifeGoals, you will have access to your funds at any time. Regardless of the term you nominate at commencement, you can withdraw some or all of your balance at any time throughout the term by completing a withdrawal form and returning the completed form to us for processing.

The minimum amount you can withdraw is $500.

Once we receive your completed withdrawal form, we will process your request and a payment will be credited to your bank, building society or credit union account.

Please note that direct credits to third parties and cash payments are not available. For investments held in joint names, the signed authority of all joint Investors is required. Special conditions apply to investments held individually by, or jointly with, a child under age 16 – see page 16 for further information about children's investments.

In cases where withdrawn funds are to be disbursed by more than one payment (i.e. credits), we reserve the right to debit your investment with, or recoup from you, any charge imposed on us, such as bank fees.

As withdrawals may have taxation consequences, we recommend that you seek taxation advice before making a withdrawal. Please refer to page 62 of this PDS for further information.

Withdrawal value

For an Investment Option, a partial withdrawal will be calculated by multiplying the number of units to be withdrawn by the prevailing Unit Sale Price.

Alternatively, if you request a specific amount, that amount will be divided by the prevailing Unit Sale Price to arrive at the number of units to be withdrawn. For a full withdrawal, the amount you will be paid is calculated by multiplying the number of units by the prevailing Unit Sale Price. The Unit Sale Price is the market value of the gross assets of the relevant Investment Option less the aggregate of any expenses (including accrued, unpaid or of sale) divided equally between the total number of units on issue prior to the relevant withdrawal.

The Unit Sale Price may be rounded.

Switching

The minimum value that you can switch is $500. If you wish to retain funds in an Investment Option, a minimum balance of $500 must remain. There are no restrictions on the number of switches you may undertake, nor are there any switching fees payable.

You can have investments in any of the Investment Options and it will be recorded against your original commencement date with no taxation consequences as you switch to actively manage your investment.

Online switching

You can submit your request to switch between the Investment Options online, all you need to do is to login into your Centuria Investor account. If you don't have an existing Centuria Investor account, registering for one is simple and quick to do. Please visit the Centuria Investor website at centuriainvestor.com.au, click on 'register now' and using your existing Investor details register for a new account.

Once you are in your online account, select the switching option from the main menu. From there the intuitive user interface will guide you through the switching process. Once the switch request has been processed you will get an email confirmation with your new account position.

Switching value

If you switch from one Investment Option to another, the value of your investment in the new Investment Option will be equal to the withdrawal value of the previous fund multiplied by the unit purchase price in the new fund.

Processing periods

We will normally process withdrawals and switches within 14 days of receiving a request.

There may be situations outside of our control where we may need to delay the usual withdrawal or switching period. These situations may be caused by delays in realising the underlying investments due to circumstances such as market disruptions, asset freezes, the illiquidity of the underlying investments or new or changed redemption restrictions. Should such delays occur, we may delay in whole or part, the processing of withdrawal or switching requests by up to 60 days. In addition, if we consider that the withdrawal or switching would be prejudicial to the financial interests of other Investors in an Investment Option, we may delay the payment or processing of withdrawal requests for up to three months. We will not be responsible for any adverse movement in the investment value during such delays.

EOFY processing

Due to the end of financial year fund reporting requirements, a processing 'blackout' period might occur for daily unit pricing beginning 30th June and concluding around 20th July (approximately three weeks). As such, any applications, redemptions or switches will be delayed by up to two weeks (totaling three to four weeks for processing during this time). All transactions are date stamped on receipt and backdated to the date of receipt as per normal procedures, except for switches which are dependent on the sell and buy date of the underlying funds.

How we administer your Centuria LifeGoals investment

Assignments (transfers)

The ownership of your investment may be transferred to another person or entity at any time (this is known as an assignment or transfer). Once we register the transfer, you no longer have any control over the investment or entitlement to its proceeds. Other than for transfers as security for a loan, you will cease to be a member of the relevant Investment Option.

The person taking the transfer of the investment will become a member of the relevant Investment Option.

Children aged between 10 and less than 16 years cannot transfer their investment to another party but may accept a transfer from another party with their parent's or guardian's written consent. Children receiving a transfer do not have access to the funds until they reach age 16 unless the fund matures.

Transfers may be useful for those wishing to use their fund as security for a loan or to transfer assets to a third party (please refer to page 62 for detail on the taxation consequences of transfer).

Children

Special conditions apply to investments made by, or jointly with, a child under the age of 16 (but at least 10 years of age). These funds have restricted access and may only be cancelled in full during the cooling-off period.

To cancel a child's investment, written notice of the cancellation must be received by us during the cooling off period, together with a letter of request signed by the parent or guardian who consented to the opening of the child's investment. A refund, as explained under 'Cooling off period' on page 58, will be made.

After the cooling off period has elapsed, no withdrawals are allowed until the child Investor reaches age 16, except in the event of the child's death.

Keeping you informed

Additional tax information

No annual tax assessment for Investors

You are not required to include ongoing earnings in the value of your investment in your annual personal tax returns.

Tax position of Investor upon withdrawal

You are not required to include the withdrawn value of your investment (including its earnings component) in your tax return if withdrawn in the following circumstances:

- After the 10-Year Period.
- At any time, if withdrawal is due to death, accident, disability or serious illness or other disability of the selected Life Insured.
- At any time, if withdrawal is due to unforeseen serious financial difficulties experienced by you (as Investor).

You are required to include the following proportion of the earnings component of a withdrawn amount, if a withdrawal occurs in any other circumstances during the 10-Year Period:

- The full earnings component, if withdrawn in any year up to the eighth year of the 10-Year Period.
- Two-thirds of the earnings component, if withdrawn in the ninth year of the 10-Year Period.
- One-third of the earnings component, if withdrawn in the tenth year of the 10-Year Period.

Any assessable amount on withdrawal (or partial withdrawal) will also attract a 30% tax offset, to compensate for tax pre-paid by us on earnings.

We recommend that you seek taxation advice before making any investment or withdrawals.

Assignment of investment

Where an assignment or transfer to another Investor has occurred without consideration or payment, there will be no income tax or CGT consequences for either the original or subsequent Investor. For tax purposes, the new Investor will simply inherit the tax position of the original Investor. However, if you are planning an assignment or transfer that involves consideration or payment, we recommend you obtain taxation advice before assigning or transferring your ownership.

Goods and services tax

GST is not payable on contributions, investment growth, withdrawals or switching transactions.

No need to quote a tax file number

Under current tax and privacy laws, Investors are not required to provide their tax file number.

Non-resident withholding taxes do not apply

Earnings are not subject to withholding tax. We are generally not obliged to withhold tax from income distributions, nor from amounts paid on withdrawal to non-resident Investors. Non-resident Investors in most other investments need to consider withholding tax implications.

No Medicare levy

Tax-paid returns accruing are excluded from your taxable income. Accordingly, no Medicare levy (or Medicare levy surcharge) is attracted on those returns.

Basis of taxation information

The taxation information provided throughout this PDS is provided as a general guide on the implications of investing.

As tax laws are subject to change from time to time, we recommend that Investors seek independent professional advice before investing in this PDS and as appropriate during their holding period as an Investor.

Non-resident Investors should seek additional professional advice on any tax implications in their country of residence.

Other important information

Fund Rules

Each Investment Option is a separate Benefit Fund established under the Life Insurance Act and Centuria Life's Constitution (Benefit Fund).

When you invest in an Investment Option, you become a member of the relevant Investment Option/Benefit Fund and are subject to the Fund Rules as set out in the Constitution and which have been registered with APRA. As a Benefit Fund member, you have certain rights as specified in the Fund Rules.

The Fund Rules operate as a contract between you and Centuria Life and are available for inspection at our office during normal business hours. To view a copy of the Fund Rules, you can call our Investor Services Team on 1300 50 50 50 to arrange an appointment or we can send you an extract of the relevant sections of the Constitution.

Amendment of Fund Rules

Centuria Life may amend the Fund Rules by a special resolution of the members of Centuria Life.

In addition, the board of directors of Centuria Life may amend the Fund Rules if APRA is satisfied that:

- the amendment is authorised or required under the Life Insurance Act or any other law; or
- the amendment will not prejudice the rights of Investors in the relevant Investment Option whose Fund Rules are to be amended; or
- the amendment is to correct a patent error in the Fund Rules; or
- the amendment is in relation to a restructure or termination of an Investment Option under the Life Insurance Act.

Nature of Investors' interests under the Fund Rules

Investors have an interest in the assets of the relevant Investment Option in which they have invested.

The Investors' interest is to the extent of their unit holding, however, a unit holding does not confer any specific interest in any part of the assets or any authorised investment of the relevant Investment Option.

At any given time, all units in an Investment Option are of equal value.

Liability of Investors

Investors are under no personal obligation to indemnify Centuria Life (or its creditors) in relation to Centuria Life's liabilities relating to Centuria LifeGoals. Each Investment Option is also separate and distinct from each other Investment Option and your investment is therefore protected from any potential losses in other Investment Options.

Suspension or termination of an Investment Option

If Centuria Life considers that changes in the economic climate or tax laws have caused or are likely to cause Investors in an Investment Option to be detrimentally affected, it may after consulting its actuary and upon application to APRA, suspend for such period determined by APRA, the payment of benefits from the Investment Option. Centuria Life may during that period decide to terminate the Investment Option. If it terminates the Investment Option, it must sell the investments and distribute the net proceeds.

If Centuria Life closes an Investment Option or ceases to offer to accept contributions, Centuria Life must give any affected Investors at least three months' notice that the Investor may switch to an alternative Investment Option or partially or wholly realise their investment.

Anti-money laundering legislation

The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth) (AML Act) is aimed at addressing money laundering in Australia and the threat to national security caused by terrorism. This legislation requires us to collect identification information from you and to verify your identity from original or certified copies of specified documents before we can process your application. Details of what identification information and documentation you are required to provide are set out in the application form in this PDS.

We may ask you to provide information that is reasonably required to verify your identity, the identity of any underlying Beneficial Owner or the source or destination of any payment to or from us. We may also require you to provide updated or additional information from time to time.

Under this legislation we are also required to monitor transactions to identify any suspicious activity on an account.

We may delay or refuse to process an application or withdrawal if you do not provide the information we request to comply with the AML Act.

For us to comply with the AML Act, we require you to disclose whether you (or any of your Beneficial Owners) are, or have an association with, a Politically Exposed Person.

By applying to invest you:

- agree to comply with all applicable anti-money laundering laws and regulations;
- warrant that you are not aware and have no reason to suspect that:
 - the monies used to fund your investment have been or will be derived from or related to any money laundering and other activities deemed illegal under applicable laws or regulations or otherwise prohibited under any international convention or agreement (illegal activity); and

Other important information

United States of America (US) Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and the Common Reporting Standard (CRS)

FATCA is a US law that came into effect on 1 July 2014, which impacts Investors worldwide. FATCA attempts to minimise US income tax avoidance by US persons investing in assets outside the US, including through their investments in Foreign Financial Institutions.

FATCA requires reporting of US persons' direct and indirect ownership of non-US accounts and non-US entities to the US Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

The Australian Government has entered into an Inter-Governmental Agreement (IGA) with the Government of the United States of America for reciprocal exchange of taxpayer information. Under the IGA, financial institutions operating in Australia report information to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) rather than the IRS. The ATO may then pass the information on to the IRS.

The Common Reporting Standard (CRS) is the single global standard for the collection, reporting and exchange of financial account information on foreign tax residents, which came into effect on 1 July 2017. CRS was developed by the OECD (Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development) and over 100 countries have agreed to share information on tax residents. Like FATCA, banks and other financial institutions will collect and report to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) financial account information on non-residents. The ATO will then exchange this information with the participating foreign tax authorities of those non-residents. In return, the ATO will receive financial account information on Australian residents from other countries' tax authorities.

This will help ensure that Australian residents with financial accounts in other countries are complying with Australian tax law and act as a deterrent to tax evasion.

Centuria Life and the Centuria LifeGoals are foreign financial institutions under the IGA and Centuria Life complies with its FATCA and CRS obligations, as determined by Australian law implemented for the purposes of compliance with the IGA. These laws apply to all financial institutions offering bank or deposit accounts, investment funds, custodial accounts and certain insurance accounts in Australia.

In order to comply with these obligations, Centuria Life collects information about you as necessary to verify your FATCA and CRS status.

Centuria Life is required to provide information about the following Investors to the ATO:

- Investors identified as US citizens or tax residents (information about corporations and trusts with US substantial owners or controlling persons will also be reported).
- Investors identified as foreign tax residents as per reportable jurisdictions.
- Investors who do not confirm their FATCA and CRS status.

A FATCA and CRS form is included in the application form and all Investors are required to sign the self-certification form. If you are unable to identify your status under FATCA and CRS, Centuria Life has prepared a guidance form, which can be obtained from Centuria Life's website or by calling Centuria Life Investor Services team on 1300 50 50 50.

If we conclude as a result of our investigations that your account has not been incorrectly debited we will respond to your query by providing you with reasons and any evidence for this finding in writing.

12. Target market determination

Please select the option that applies for you.

I am an advised Investor.
You are not required to answer the below questions.

I am a direct Investor.
Please read the below instructions and answer the target market determination related questions.

Before proceeding with your application please answer the below questions which may help you determine you are in the target market for this product. If you don’t understand the questions or need assistance, please contact us on 1300 50 50 50.

Question 1

The LifeGoals product offers a wide selection of Investment Options and requires the investor to select the investment option(s) that best aligns to their tolerance for risk and investment objectives. Centuria does not select the options for you and cannot provide you with personal advice. Are you comfortable with selecting your own investment options?

Yes

No

Question 2

Investment Bonds products are not considered to be in the target market for superannuation funds which pay tax at 15%. Can you confirm that you are not a superannuation fund looking to invest in the LifeGoals product?

Yes

No

Question 3

Investment Bonds reinvest the distribution rather than paying them as a regular income to investors and are therefore not considered to be in the target market for investors seeking a product that calculates and pays a regular distribution. Can you confirm that you are not an investor looking for a product that calculates and pays a regular distribution?

Yes

No

Question 4

Investors that are paying no tax are generally not considered to be in the target market for this product unless there is a non-tax related outcome (e.g. estate planning, child plan or maximising social security benefits). This is because tax is paid within the Investment Bonds product at a higher tax rate of 30% and investors paying 0% tax may not benefit from the tax benefits under the investment bond structure.

Can you confirm that you are paying more than 0% tax or you are seeking a non-tax related outcome?

Yes

No

Important notice: If you have answered 'no' to any of these questions, this product may not be suitable for you. Before proceeding with your investment, we recommend that you review the target market determination for the product which can be found on our website centuria.com.au/lifegoals/tmd or by calling us on 1300 50 50 50 and/or seek advice from your financial adviser before deciding to proceed with your investment.

Tax information form

Why you need to complete this form

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) and Common Reporting Standard (CRS) are regulatory requirements that aim to deter tax evasion by US and other foreign taxpayers. The ATO shares this information with the tax authorities of other jurisdictions. For more information, visit ato.gov.au. For any general enquiries, please contact Centuria Life Limited, however for any specific advice on how to complete the form, please consult a legal or accounting professional.
