- Multi-level warehousing provides the opportunity to create modern product to service pent up demand

Cold storage/food logistics

- Changing consumer habits from the rise of meal kit/fresh food consumption and grocery ecommerce have driven a significant demand for cold storage and food logistics
- Australia's cold storage space per capita is c.25% below other advanced economies
- Infill development of cold storage provides unique offering to meet speed of delivery to consumers

Data centres

- Increased need for data globally is driving continued demand for data processing and storage
- New technology such as generative AI expected to further fuel demand
- Access to increased power availability and proximity to population centres provides opportunity to activate existing infill sites for development

Distribution centres

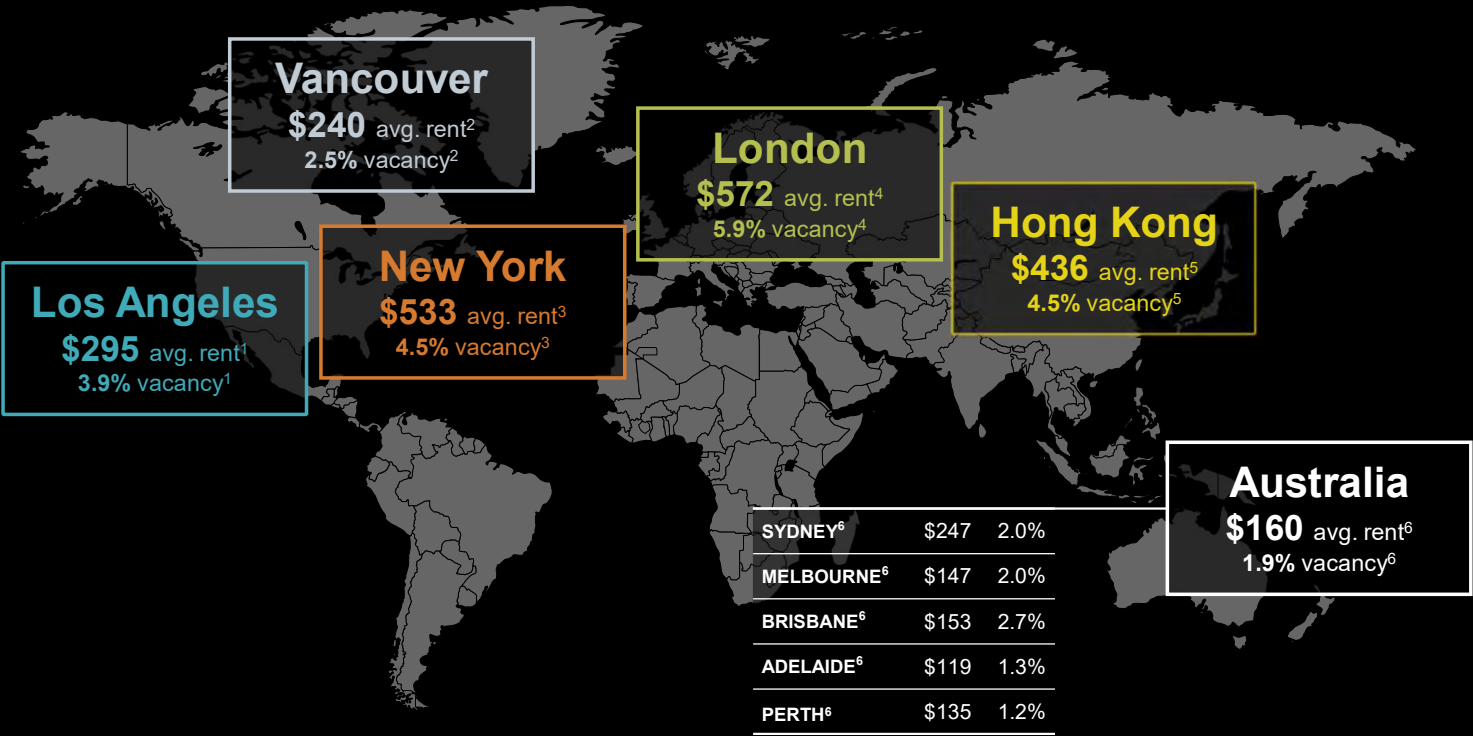

- Growth in ecommerce, onshoring and population growth continue to drive strong demand for warehousing and storage
- Same day / next day delivery expectations to increase need for multiple last mile facilities
- Modern sustainable developments provide efficient designs, increasing heights and overall cubic capacity to meet the future needs of industrial users

Appendix C - Australian industrial vacancy rates are one of the lowest in the world

Australian rents remain affordable in a global context

Avg. global rents (AU$ equivalent/per square metre) and vacancy (%)

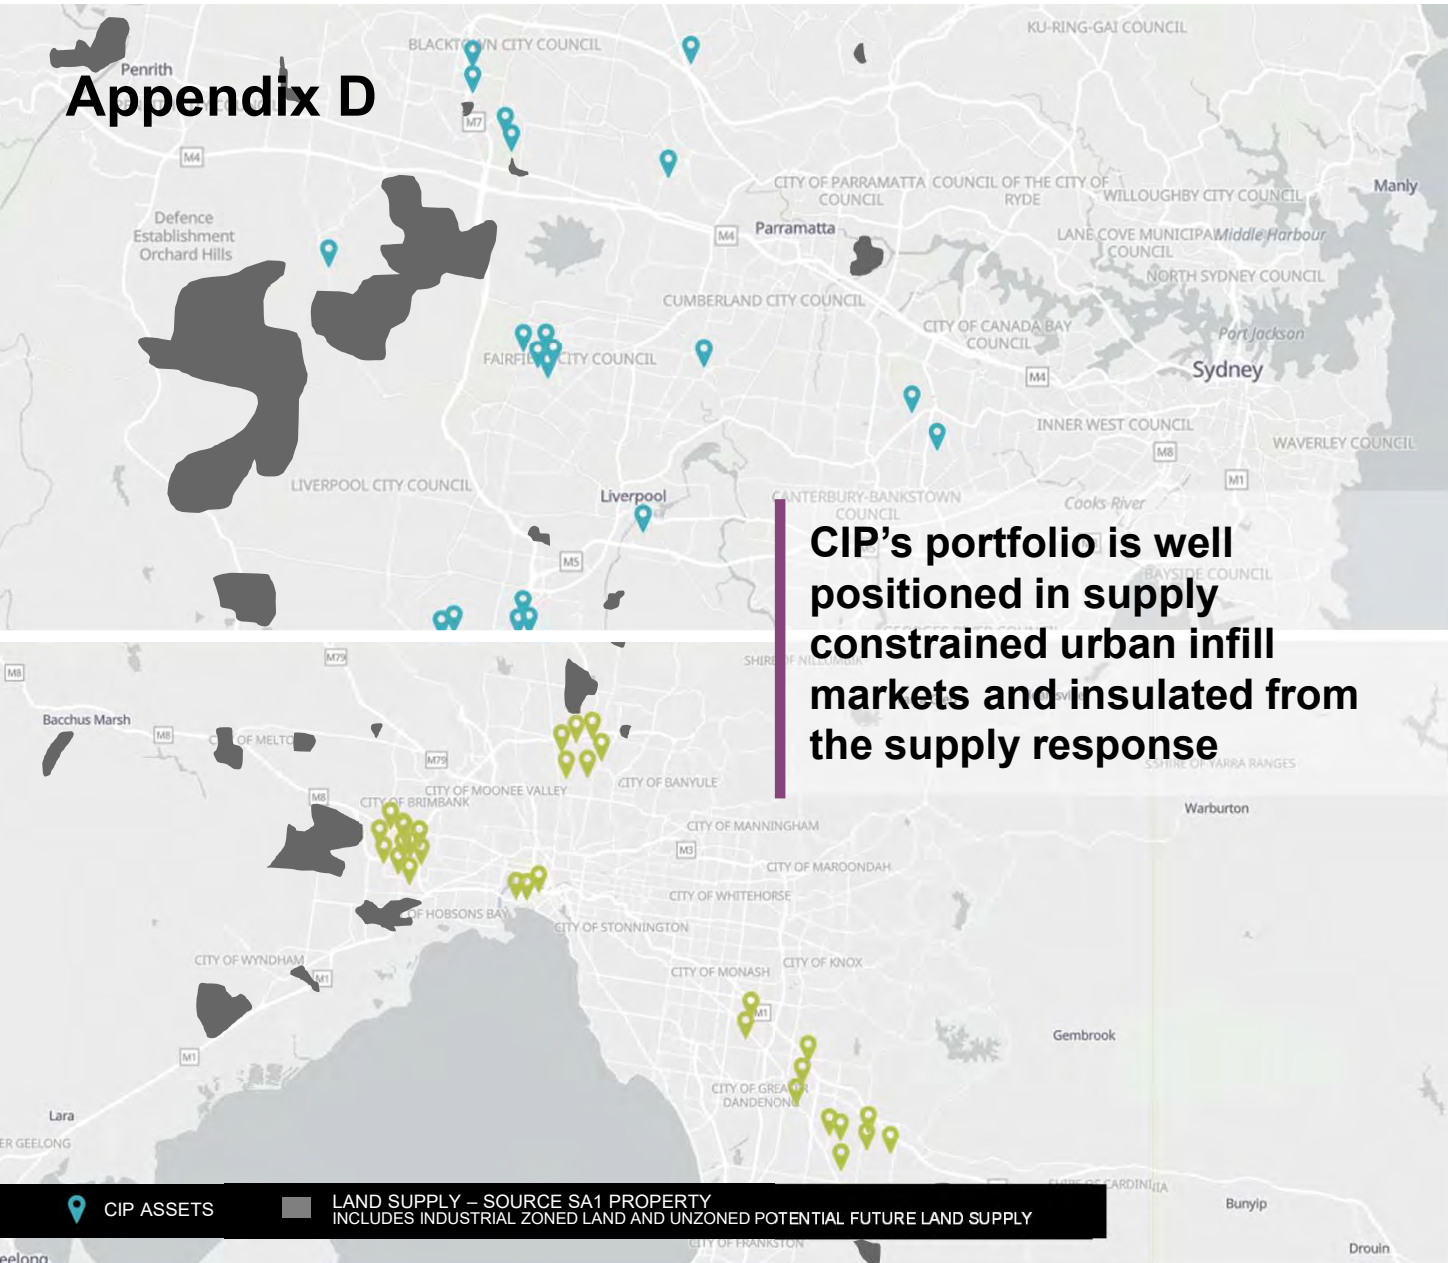

Australian National Industrial market vacancy rate of 1.9%, one of the lowest globally

CIP's portfolio is well positioned in supply constrained urban infill markets and insulated from the supply response

Sydney industrial land supply

- New land supply concentrated around the new Badgerys Creek Airport precinct, Kemps Creek and Eastern Creek
- Current planning delays and increased infrastructure costs delaying new supply coming to market

Melbourne industrial land supply

- Majority of urban infill markets currently built out with minimal supply response available
- Urban fringe markets of Truganina and Ravenhall in the outer West and Pakenham in the outer south east provide the majority of Melbourne's industrial land supply
